

A Foreign Policy for the United States for the 1980s and 1990s

This study brings together a politically diverse group of foreign policy experts to see if some consistent measure of agreement might be arrived at on the general direction of U.S. foreign policy in the 1980s and 1990s. Five meetings were held in 1981 and 1982, each concerning obvious and crucial foreign policy issues: U.S. foreign policy toward (1) the Soviet Union; (2) the Industrialized Democracies; (3) the Third World, and (4) the Middle East. Co-published with the Aspen Institute.
